About This Settlement

Toyota recalled over 3.3 million vehicles across multiple models (2018-2020) due to defective Denso-manufactured fuel pumps that could cause engine stalling. Affected owners may be eligible for compensation for repair costs and diminished vehicle value.

Who Is Eligible?

Owners or lessees of affected 2018-2020 model year Toyota and Lexus vehicles that were subject to the fuel pump recall. Vehicles must have a Denso low-pressure fuel pump identified in the recall notice.
